The homework assignments will be varied, consisting sometimes of computer programs, written assignments, or both. Homework will be assigned and collected weekly. Each homework assignment will be graded on a 10-point scale. Any homework assignment turned in late will be gladly accepted, subject to a two point penalty.

Note: Projects for graduate students will require more time than those for undergraduates. Also, there may sometimes be more homework problems assigned to graduate students than undergraduates.

Attendance: Class attendance is mandatory. It is assumed that you will attend, so I will not waste your time by taking attendance. However, keep in mind that it will be decidedly difficult for you to pass this course if you do not attend. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to find out what you missed (assignments, notes,...).

Important Dates:
- February 25 is the last day to drop and receive an automatic W.
- April 30 is the last day to drop a course.

ADA Accommodation: Any student who, because of a disability, may require some special arrangements in order to meet course requirements should contact the instructor as soon as possible to make such accommodations as may be necessary.

Religious Holy Day Observance (OP 30.16) “2. Texas House Bill 256 requires institutions of higher education to excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day. The student shall also be excused for time necessary to travel. An institution may not penalize the student for the absence and allows for the student to take an exam or complete an assignment from which the student is excused. No prior notification of the instructor is required.
